New Central School Receives First Pupils Monday

Miss Catherine M. Barrett, principal of the new Central school, seated at the inter-communication system in her office by which she can telephone to any room, speak over a public address system to all rooms, play records for all rooms, or transmit radio broadcasts to all rooms. (Look Photo)

Central School Information

For the pupils who will attend the Central elementary school this year Miss Catherine M. Barrett, principal, has issued the following instructions:

(1) The school hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:30 to 3:15 p.m. with the exception of Wednesday afternoons. Those afternoons will be spent by the teachers helping children who require individual attention due to absence from school or slow rate of learning. The children will know a day ahead so that they may plan accordingly.

(2) The first, second and third graders report just mornings for the first four weeks of the school year. If parents cannot transport bus children at noon, they will be under the supervision of their teachers until the school bus can take them home on one of their regular trips.

PUBLIC INSPECTION OF NEW BUILDING

A date for public inspection of the new 18-room Central elementary school on Bartlet street will be announced soon. It is expected that it will be arranged in connection with the dedication of the building which tentatively has been set for sometime late in September.

(3) Bus children who are excused at 12 o'clock on Wednesdays but have no way of getting home, will be expected to eat in the cafeteria and at the close of the noon hour return to their classrooms. They then will be under the watchful eye of the teacher until their buses arrive. These buses leave school earlier on Wednesdays.

About 600 Expected To Attend

The new Central elementary school will open for the first time next Monday morning when Miss Catherine M. Barrett, principal, and her staff will welcome some 600 pupils to the 18 grade and two kindergarten class rooms.

The recently completed structure replaces the John Dove school, built in 1876 and razed to make room for the present building; the Samuel Jackson built in 1904, which will house no pupils but which will be used for shop and music; and the Stowe school, originally erected in 1893 and rebuilt in 1896 after being destroyed by fire. This building is still standing but will not be used.

Abbot To Open Sept. 23

Abbot academy will open its 24th session Sept. 23 when the new pupils will arrive and register. On that afternoon Miss Marguerite C. Hearsey, principal, assisted members of the faculty will be hostess to the new girls and their parents. Tea will be served in the Keen rooms of Draper Hall.

Precinct Officers For Coming Year

Town's New $17,000 Fire Fighter

Andover's new 1000-gallon pumping engine which just arrived last week. It is the new cab-ahead-of-engine design with V-12 motor. Chief C. Edward Buchan is seated in the cab with James W. Deyermond, driver, and Charles H. Murnane is seated on one of the seats beside the motor. The illuminated panel board is shown on this side of the engine. (Look Photo)

V-12 Motor Has 215 H. P.

The latest acquisition to the town's fire fighting equipment, a 1000-gallon triple combination pumping engine for which the town meeting last March appropriated $17,000, arrived last week and after acceptance tests to be held this week will be placed in service.

The new piece replaces the former Engine 3, a veteran of 24-years' service in the department. Disposition of this piece of apparatus has not yet been decided.

The new engine was shipped from the American LaFrance Foamite Corp., of Elmira, N.Y., over a week ago but was held in Boston for several days for exhibition at the fire chiefs' convention.

Powered by a V-12 motor of 215 h.p., it has a capacity for 1600 feet of 2½ inch hose, a 150-gallon booster tank and 150 feet of 3/4 inch hose.

The driver's cab, which seats three, is placed ahead of the en-

Bloodmobile Here Sept. 22 And 23

Andover chapter of the Red Cross has a visit of the bloodmobile scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22 and 23. To meet the quota needed it will be necessary to sign up 200 prospective donors for the first day and 150 for the second.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 8 teams of volunteers will canvass the town to enroll donors for this program.

Two points about these bloodmobile visits are significant to Andover residents: first, it is these visits which make blood available, free upon request, for hospitals here, and for members of the armed forces in Korea and elsewhere; second; it is usually easier and more convenient for people to give blood at a time planned in advance, right here in Andover, than it is to be called to a hospital as an emergency donor when some one needs a blood transfusion.

Due to increase demands for blood, and to the slackening of blood donations during the vacation season, the blood situation is acute at the moment, all over the country.

Dick Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster of Dumbarton st. is spending a week with his grandparents in Waltham.

Our Schools Open

Our town of Andover, long distinguished as a noted seat of learning, this month will admit some 4500 young people to its various schools.

It might be accepting a great many more were it not for the fact that its private schools and most of its public schools are again filled to capacity. Only the completion of two new buildings this year keeps the public schools out of that category, yet class room accommodations in Shawsheen Village and Ballardvale are just about stretched to their limit.

The greatest increase in school enrollment comes in the public schools, as revealed by The Townsman's survey of the situation last week.

Phillips academy, which has just announced the award of scholarships to 174 students; Abbot academy, which will welcome girls from several foreign countries as well as from all parts of the United States; the Sacred Heart school, with youngsters from many New England communities; the Pike and Marland schools, with over 200 pupils in the local area, and St. Augustine's, which will have more than 400 boys and girls in its kindergarten and eight grades, have room for no more than they have had in the past few years.

A big increase, however, will be noted in Merrimack college, a co-educational school still in its growing stages, and a whacking increase will come in the public schools where 2045 pupils are expected on the opening day, compared with the enrollment of about 1800 a year ago.

The increase is noted all through the system, in the senior and junior high schools as well as in the grade schools, with the bulk coming in the lower grades. This far surpasses the number estimated in the school survey a few years ago.

A large part of the increase is due to new families coming to Andover, the rest to the high birth rate that followed World War II.

All these young people in both public and private schools will be under the supervision and guidance of capable teaching staffs devoted during the next 10 months to the American system of education in training them to become better citizens.

NEW BOOKS

New Ways to Better Meetings, Strauss.

A how-to-do-it book which discusses some of the newer techniques which will prove helpful in getting greater member participation in group meetings, large and small.

Club Members Handbook, Milligan.

Covers many phases of club activity – the conduct of meeting, the duties of officers, work of committees, program planning, publicity.

The Toastmaster's Handbook, Prochnow.

Practical advice for the person who finds himself the chairman of a meeting. Deals with the responsibilities and techniques of the toastmaster, gives illustrations of actual introductions, responses to introductions, quotations suitable for many occasions.

Committees and Conferences: How To Lead Them, Utterbach.

Concerned with developing "cooperative thinking as a democratic procedure," will interest anyone (and that is almost everyone) who serves on committees, boards, councils.

You Can Plan That Meeting

A pamphlet issued by the American Library association and Western Michigan College of Education which gives concrete suggestions for planning and conducting different types of meetings – a book review, a symposium, a film forum, a panel.

Film Utilization, Kidd and Storr.

If you use films in your program, an excellent handbook to help you make their use valuable and effective. Designed for leaders of all kinds of community groups.

Let's Discuss It

A discussion guide on current problems, four pages in length, issued monthly except during the summer, by Ohio State university discussion service.

ONE READER'S CHOICE

A Walk in the City, Kazin.

An evocative piece of writing – a series of impressions – whereby the author recalls with tenderness the streets, the people, the events, the books that influenced his growing up years in Brooklyn.

Treasure Island, Stevenson.

Excellent for rereading, particularly if shared with an eight or nine year old. Makes most modern adventure stories seem pallid by comparison.

CENTRAL SCHOOL INFORMATION

(4) Beginning Sept. 8, the new fully-equipped cafeteria will serve a hot lunch. Because these lunches are subsidized by the federal lunch program, the cost to the elementary school child is only 25¢. Ice-cream and milk will also be sold to those children who wish to supplement their lunches from home. Trays will be supervised.

(5) The kindergartens will operate on a single session with the same school hours as the grades. It is understood that the children who attend school mornings the first part of the year, will attend afternoons beginning the first of February. There is no kindergarten on Wednesday afternoons.

ABBOT ACADEMY OPENS SEPT. 23

Wednesday morning, Sept. 24, the day scholars will register and throughout the day re-entering resident girls will arrive and register. On Saturday the entire school will go on an all-day picnic at Crane's Beach, and Saturday evening the Abbot Christian association will entertain the new girls at a stunt party in Davis Hall.

New day scholars from Andover and vicinity are as follows: Susan Appleton, Eleanor Easton, Elizabeth Edmonds, Marilyn Emsley, Mary Anne Faggiano, Joan Glidden, Cecily Kemper, Rachel Kimball, Anne Kittredge, Susan Richmond, Ann Sherman, Mary Louise Stiegler, Nancy Swift, and Anne Twombly.

The geographic range of the student body includes boarding pupils from twenty-three states including Alaska, and the Canal Zone in the United States, and pupils from Bermuda, Canada, Colombia, Cuba and Panama. Among the boarding students, the group from Connecticut leads in numbers. Outside of the New England region the following states are represented: Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Minnesota, Michigan, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

The opening program really begins Saturday evening, Sept. 20 when the faculty gathers at Sunset Lodge, home of Miss Hearsey, the principal, for the first faculty meeting of the season. Miss Hearsey will entertain the group at supper preceding the session. At that time she will introduce the new members of the faculty who are as follows:

Miss Eleanor Brooks of Cape Cod, who will join the office staff. Miss Brooks was formerly connected with the Parsons School of Design. She has been in the field of journalism, and has had business experience in the field of interior decorating.

Miss Pamela Tinker from Harrogate college, England, who will teach biology at Abbot as a Fulbright exchange teacher. Miss Louise Coffin of the Abbot faculty will fill Miss Tinker's place at Harrogate college. Miss Tinker is a graduate of Sheffield university.

Miss Agnete Wulff of Cobham, Surry, England, who will join the teachers of English literature at Abbot. Miss Wulff is a graduate of London university, and has taught in several preparatory schools in England.

Miss Patience Hunkin of Oxford, England, who will also join the department of English literature as teacher of English. Miss Hunkin is a graduate of Gerton college, Cambridge university. Miss Hunkin has had teaching experience not only in England, but in France as well.

Miss Eleanor Jennings of Candor, N.Y., who will teach the history courses. Miss Jennings is a graduate of Smith college where she took a master's degree. She has taught at Walnut Hill school, and at Stuart Hall in Virginia.

Mrs. Paul De Gavre who will teach Latin. Mrs. De Gavre is a graduate of New Jersey College for Women, and has formerly taught at the Knox school, and comes to Abbot from Stuart Hall in Virginia.

The officers of the Abbot Student Government association, elected by the student body last spring, are as follows:

Anne Oliver, of New Canaan, Conn., president; Polly Jackson of Pittsburgh, vice president; Dunster Pettit of Lexington, Ky., secretary. The president of the Class of 1953 is Doris Schoonmaker of Cold Spring Harbor, N.Y. Heads of other campus organizations are: Patricia Eleveth, president of the Abbot Christian association; Carol Hardin of Darien, Conn., president of the Abbot Athletic association; Cornelia Weldon of Andover, president of the day scholars; Mary Grant of New Canaan, Conn., captain of the Gargoyles; Julie Gaines of Fairfield, Conn., captain of the Griffins; Helen Marvell of Newtown, Penn., editor of the school magazine, Courant; Nancy Smedley of Exeter, N.H., editor of the class yearbook, The Abbot Circle; and Caroline Benedict of Andover, business manager of the yearbook. All of the foregoing leading officers are members of the senior class.

PROBATE COURT

Essex, ss.

To ANNIE JEWETT and GEORGE E. JEWETT both of North Andover in said County of Essex, and ALICE M. JEWETT of Medford in the County of Middlesex and to all other persons interested.

A petition has been presented to said Court by ALBERT L. JEWETT, of Medford in the County of Middlesex, representing that he holds as tenant in common a certain undivided part or share of certain land lying in said County and briefly described as follows:

A parcel of land with the building thereon known as No. 22 Marblehead Street in North Andover in the County of Essex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southwesterly corner thereof at a hub on the Easterly side of Marblehead Street and thence running Northerly by the line of said Street about 50 feet to a hub; thence running Easterly by land now or late of Davis about 129 feet to a hub by the fence; thence running South by East about 58 feet by said Davis land to a hub; and thence running Westerly by land now or late of Catherine Trulen about 158 feet to the point of beginning. Containing about 7175 square feet. The common title to said land is derived under deed dated in 1879 from Francis G. Brainerd to Hezekiah Jewett recorded with Essex North District Deeds Book 63, Page 155, and under will of Hezekiah Jewett (Essex Probate No. 116772), Administration of the Estate of Jeanette G. Jewett (Essex Probates No. 199358) will of Charles E. Jewett (Essex Probates No. 221039), and will of Ida Belle Jewett (Essex Probates No. 236005).

setting forth that he desires that—all—of said land may be sold at private sale for not less than Five Thousand Five Hundred dollars, and praying that partition may be made of all the land aforesaid according to law and to that end that a commissioner be appointed to make such partition and be ordered to make sale and conveyance of all, or any part of said land which the Court finds cannot be advantageously divided either at private sale or public auction, and be ordered to distribute the net proceeds thereof.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Lawrence before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the eighth day of September 1952, the return day of this citation.

NEW CENTRAL SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

When pupils step into this new building next Monday morning they will see a brand new and modern structure with many striking features which are a distinct departure from what they have experienced in other school buildings.

All walls are finished in different pastel tints with the latest lighting arrangements of glass blocks and windows which require no curtains. Ventilators and radiators in each room are enclosed. All rooms and corridors are soundproofed and the concrete floors are covered with linoleum. In the corridors outside each room are metal lockers for clothing, each of which will be shared by two pupils.

Each room has a full-length mirror to assist the children with their posture, and each room has its wall cabinets, shelves, and sink with hot and cold water.

Class rooms on the street floor are for the first three grades. They are equipped with separate desks and chairs of blond maple, none of which is affixed to the floor.

Rooms on the second floor are for the upper grades. Each pupil will have a combination desk and chair, not fixed to the floor. In each room the teacher has an individual filing cabinet beside her desk.

One striking departure from the school of other days is that the rooms have no "blackboards." Instead, they have "chalk" boards of green. White or yellow chalk can be used on them. Each room also has a cork board about the size of the "chalk" board upon which bulletins may be attached.

The southerly wing of the building contains two kindergarten rooms, an auditorium that seats 267, a gym-cafeteria with movable tables and benches, and a kitchen.

The office of the superintendent of schools and of the principal are located off the corridor in the central part of the building.

The new West Center school, which opened last spring for two classes from the old West school, will have all six rooms occupied when it opens Monday with Miss Isabelle Dobbie principal.

Pupils from the Indian Ridge school, now closed, will enter this new building Monday for the first time.

This school is finished like the Central school and has somewhat similar modern features, together with a gym-cafeteria, kindergarten, and offices.

Occupation of the two new school buildings is the result of a study started some years ago regarding local school needs.

The town meeting of 1949 appropriated $1500 for a survey of the entire school plant. This was made by Jesse B. Davis of Boston university, and Cyril G. Sargent formerly of Phillips academy faculty but now with the Harvard School of Education, and the report presented to the citizens prior to the town meeting of 1950. This meeting authorized the appointment of a building committee to present plans and recommendations to the town.

This committee was made up as follows: C. Carleton Kimball, chairman, Kenneth L. Sherman, secretary, Herbert P. Carter, Gordon L. Colquhoun, Roy E. Hardy, Harold T. Houston and Stanley F. Swanton.

The architectural firm of Tucker & Rich Associates of Boston was selected with Dr. Homer Anderson employed as an educational consultant. The Bartlet street site of the Central school presented no problem but the committee had to find a suitable site for the West Center school and recommended the purchase of approximately 12 acres on Beacon street. It presented a plan for a six-room building in this district, and for the center of the town a two-story building of classrooms.

A table giving the costs was presented, the total for the West Center school being $350,000 and the Center $750,000 with $100,000 for contingencies, a grand total of $1,200,000.

A special town meeting in November, 1950 voted to accept the recommendations of the school building committee for the two schools and appropriated the sum of $1,200,000.

Bids were called for, and in March 1951 the contract for both schools was awarded to the Walter L. Ritchie Co., of Malden at a contract price of $1,037,816 which represented $674,310 for the Central school and $363,506 for the West school.

Ground for both schools was broken Sunday, Apr. 1 in the presence of a large gathering of town and school officials, the contractor and local teachers.

Both schools are now ready for occupancy.

Obituary...

MISS MARY ANN CONNOLLY

Miss Mary Ann Connolly, 61, a former resident of Andover, died Aug. 31 at Flint, Mich., where she went six months ago to make her home.
